PAS ENews Update

In an effort to streamline communication with parents and families, we are phasing out PAS E-News. Please continue to look for school news in the E-Pony, as well as in emails from room parents. Starting next week, community news will be included every other week in the E-Pony.

Please send community news and announcements to pasenews@gmail.com.

Join us on Saturday, October 20th, 1-4PM for our PAS Garden Workday. Bring your family, gloves, and trowels, too! Fun for all and lots to do!

A Book A Day

On October 27th A Book a Day will hold a baklava sale to raise money for art books. This event will be hosted by Bindlestiff, our local independent bookstore. Please save the date!

A Book a Day program, a Penn Libraries funded initiative, donates newly published children's books to the Henry C. Lea School and the Penn Alexander School. Every month, eight new hardcover books are delivered to the school libraries for the use of children in each school. The core of the program is to give the kids access to intriguing books on music, art history, poetry, or street art. They help introduce them to the work and life of important painters, musicians, and poets, among them Pablo Picasso, Isamo Noguchi, Hokusai, e.e. cummings, Vasillii Kandinski, Michelangelo, and Robert Frost.
