Happy Navaratri

Navaratri is celebrated for 9 nights (and ten days) and is celebrated every year in the autumn. It is observed for different reasons and celebrated differently in various parts of the Indian cultural sphere. Theoretically, there are four seasonal Navaratri. However, in practice, it is the post-monsoon autumn festival called Sharada Navaratri that is the most observed in the honor of the divine feminine Devi (Durga). The festival is celebrated in the bright half of the Hindu calendar month Ashvin, which typically falls in the Gregorian months of September and October.

Kathy Revelle developed an immediate attraction to yoga many years ago. She completed her 200-hour Yoga Teacher Training (YTT) in February 2011 and Main's 500-hour YTT in August 2012. She has a gentle style that emphasizes staying present, through the breath, while fostering your own sense of calm and relaxation. In addition to public studio classes, Kathy also teaches yoga to kids and chair yoga to seniors.

Conscious Classrooms + Communities Conference

Please join us for the Second Annual Conference: Conscious Communities and Classrooms. The objective of the conference is to create a forum for educators, students, and stakeholders to discuss, challenge, and celebrate the relationship between schools and communities. This year, our guiding question is "What is your hope for our community?" This year, we will be hosting a 90 minute lightning-style conference, where multiple speakers can share their answers to the above question. The conference will be virtual, and be on Thursday, October 29th from 6:30PM-8:00PM. The conference is free. The registration link is here: <http://bit.ly/communityPHL>

GETTING TO KNOW...MATTHEW BURGESS

Matthew Burgess

“I think children benefit from seeing people who love life. In spite of all the difficulties and challenges that he was facing, Keith embodied and transmitted a love of life. One thing we can do for young people is to find ways to celebrate life and to invite them to join us. Not by burying our heads in the sand, but by staying connected to what makes life worth living, and to remember that we’re here for a short time.

Keith’s line, his visual imagery, is constantly vibrating with this aliveness.”

A BOOK A DAY PRESENTS:

A conversation with Matthew Burgess, who speaks about his new book Drawing on Walls, The Story of Keith Haring and answers some important questions about censorship in children’s literature, especially on topics of sexual identity.
